ABOUT THE ASSOCIATION

The Southern Historical Association (SHA) was organized on November 2, 1934 and charged with promoting an “investigative rather than a memorial approach” to southern history. The Association seeks to: 1) foster historically-based thinking in the American South; 2) foster the study and teaching of southern history at all educational levels; 3) encourage the collection and preservation of historical records within the American South; and 4) support and encourage state and local historical societies, museums, and educational organizations within the American South. The Association holds an annual meeting, usually in the first or second week of November, and publishes the quarterly Journal of Southern History.

The SHA aims to be an inclusive organization and strives to treat all members with dignity and respect and to provide a community that is free from discrimination, whether based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, marital status, or any other status or classification protected by federal, state, or local law.

The Southern Historical Association opposes sexual harassment in all aspects of academia and insists that all members adhere to our professional code of conduct. Please read our full policy at our website: thesha.org/about

The SHA maintains two permanent offices: the editorial office of the Journal of Southern History at Rice University since 1959, and the Secretary-Treasurer’s office at the University of Georgia since 1980.

Inquiries concerning articles, books, book reviews, advertising in the Journal of Southern History, departmental activities, and professional news and notices should be directed to:

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Glenda Gilmore

Dear Conference Participants,

I am thrilled to welcome you to the 2022 Southern Historical Association Conference and grateful that we can be together again after three years. The scourge of Covid has disrupted our lives and marked this organization. The decision to cancel our in-person conference in New Orleans was a wrenching one, especially after meeting virtually instead of in-person in Memphis the previous year. It is a testament to the SHA's strength that the officers' first consideration was our members' health rather than the logistical and financial stakes involved. Immediate past president Steven Hahn led the officers clear-headedly and empathetically to make tough decisions. Secretary-Treasurer Stephen Berry proved to be the consummate crisis manager.

Our members, the heart of the Southern, coalesced as an entity during these hard times and simply carried on. People volunteered, happily consented, or at least consented to serve on prize committees and to head working committees, even as they were in crisis mode, cancelling reservations, facing illness, and teaching remotely. Incoming president Joseph Reidy has triumphed over perhaps the most difficult task—staffing committees—in the pandemic's third year. Membership committee chair Kelly Kennington and her colleagues provided the ongoing heartbeat of the organization with initiatives that reached existing members with new services and added 64 new members in the midst of a pandemic. Program chairs Crystal Feimster and Stephen Kantowitz met virtually and efficiently to whip into shape the rich program that we will be enjoying. One difference this year is that we opted not to name a local arrangements committee. After years of making local arrangements, only to find ourselves unable to meet, ongoing COVID concerns, and pandemic-induced financial constraints on the SHA and other institutions, we scaled back outside activities. We'll post a list of must-sees in Baltimore for you to visit in your own small groups.

Exciting panels abound this year. Two plenaries focus on the current attacks on history. A panel of experts will discuss "History Education in the Public Square" and Martha Jones will be in conversation with Nikole Hannah-Jones on Saturday. My presidential address, "The Past Ahead," considers the collective challenges that we face as historians in these times and brainstorms solutions and subversive actions we might take.

Perhaps the most meaningful highlight this year is simply the opportunity to see old friends and talk about southern history. I hope you take time to savor it.

Sincerely,
Glenda Gilmore
President, Southern Historical Association

Please Consider Donating to the SHA

Since 1934 the Southern Historical Association has worked diligently to advance the cause of history in and of the American South, all while earning a reputation as one of the most rigorous, yet thoroughly accessible and convivial academic organizations in the United States. Your giving ensures that this Association, which has served the region and the profession so well, will remain uniquely welcoming, vibrant, and rewarding for future generations dedicated to exploring the complex and critically important history of the American South. If you are in a position where a $1,000 contribution is feasible, you become a Lifetime Sponsor of the SHA.

Visit thesha.org/donate to learn more.

ABOUT EHS

The European History Section was founded in 1955 to serve European historians, graduate students, and faculty in the South. Over the years, it has grown into a full-fledged associate of the Southern Historical Association, and it now attracts European historians, graduate students, faculty, independent researchers, and patrons of history in the entire United States and abroad. The European History Section is for everyone who is interested in the European past. The European History Section of the Southern Historical Association is the oldest European History Association in the United States. It encourages the study of the history of Europe, particularly by historians in the South. It is the only professional association of Europeanists with a comparative, multi-disciplinary approach. The European History Section is recognized as a non-profit organization under Section 501 (c) (3). All contributions are tax-deductible.

ABOUT SAWH

Founded in 1970, SAWH supports the study of women's history and the work of women historians. The SAWH especially welcomes as members all women and men who are interested in the history of the U.S. South and/or women's history, as well as all women historians in any field who live in the South. The SAWH meets annually in conjunction with the Southern Historical Association (SHA), awards publication prizes, and sponsors the Southern Conference on Women's History every three years. SAWH members receive a thrice-yearly newsletter with conference announcements, calls for papers, and news about the organization and its members.

ABOUT SLSA

The SLSA promotes research and teaching in the field of southern labor and working-class studies, facilitates active programs of scholarly exchange among academics, teachers, archivists, and activists, and works to build and strengthen a sense of community among students and scholars of labor and the working class in the U.S. South.

the SOUTHERN HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

CONGRATULATIONS TO SAWH ON ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY

The Southern Historical Association congratulates the Southern Association for Women Historians on the occasion of its 50th anniversary in 2020. COVID delayed a formal in-person celebration until this year. The SAWH was founded in 1970 in a small room near the boilers in the basement of Louisville's Kentucky Hotel during a meeting of the SHA. In those days, when women historians were a distinct minority among the SHA membership and when people who studied women's lives felt marginalized, a group of volunteers formed the "Caucus of Women Historians" to study the status of women in the profession and in the SHA and to encourage scholarship on women. By 1974, they had transformed an informal caucus into a well-organized professional association which still meets annually. All members and friends of SAWH are cordially invited to the annual address and 50th anniversary celebration taking place Saturday, November 12, 2022 at 4:45 PM in Key Ballroom 7 and 8.

STATEMENT ON INCLUSIVENESS

The Southern Historical Association (“SHA” or the “Association”) is committed to being an inclusive, diverse, and equitable organization. The SHA strives to treat all its members with dignity and respect and strives to provide a community that is free from discrimination and harassment in all respects, whether based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, marital status, or any other status or classification protected by federal, state, or local law.

CODE OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

The Southern Historical Association (“SHA” or the “Association”) strongly opposes discrimination and harassment in all aspects of academia. Further, the Association encourages informational activities designed to promote the education of its members and the public regarding discrimination and harassment and encourages historians to speak out against such incidents. Simultaneously, the Association opposes efforts to limit academic discourse and free speech on campuses, and it disapproves of the violation of academic freedom. Discrimination and harassment within academe are unethical, unprofessional, and constitute a threat to academic freedom.

Purpose

The purpose of this Code of Professional Conduct is to ensure a safe, welcoming, and inclusive environment, free of discrimination and harassment, for all members and participants during the SHA’s annual meeting (whether at an official or unofficial event or activity), in traveling to and from the annual meeting, during a SHA committee meeting, or in connection with performing committee or other official work for the SHA committee work (whether in-person, by telephone, or through electronic communication), all such events and activities referred to collectively herein as the “SHA Events and Activities”.

To that end, the SHA strictly prohibits discrimination and harassment against members and participants at all SHA Events and Activities, whether based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, marital status, or any other status or classification protected by federal, state, or local law.

Any form of discrimination or harassment based on any status or classification protected by federal, state, or local law at SHA Events and Activities is a serious violation of this Code of Professional Conduct and undermines the atmosphere of trust essential to the academic environment. It is unacceptable to condone discrimination or harassment or to disregard complaints of discrimination or harassment. Such actions or inactions may allow or promote a hostile environment and are inconsistent with the maintenance of academic freedom.

Simultaneously, the SHA recognizes that among historians and scholars who study and discuss difficult topics, there may be times when the display of offensive materials and the discussion of negative and even denigrating stereotypes and labels is reasonable for honest scholarly conversation.

Additionally, the SHA requires all members and participants, including attendees, staff, contractors, temporary staff, vendors, exhibitors, venue staff, employees, volunteers, and guests, to engage in respectful behavior and to preserve the Association’s standard of professionalism at all times at SHA Events and Activities.

Expected Behavior

- All participants are expected to comply with this Code of Professional Conduct at all SHA Events and Activities.
- All participants are expected to abide by the norms of professional respect that are necessary to promote the conditions for free academic interchange.
- If any participant witnesses or is subjected to a potential violation of this Code of Professional Conduct, the participant must immediately report the conduct as directed under this Code in the Complaint Process below.
- If any participant witnesses or is subjected to a situation in which someone may be in imminent physical danger, the participant must immediately alert staff, security personnel, or law enforcement, as appropriate.

Examples of Unacceptable Behavior

These examples are not intended to be exhaustive.

Sexual Harrassment

Unacceptable behavior includes any form of sexual harassment, and the SHA opposes sexual harassment in any setting. Sexual harassment of members or other participants at SHA Events and Activities is strictly prohibited under this Code of Professional Conduct. Sexual harassment includes behavior that demeans, humiliates, or threatens an individual on the basis of that individual’s sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, or sexual orientation. In the academic context, the term “sexual harassment” may be used to describe a wide range of behaviors.

Sexual harassment includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Gender-based or sexist remarks or behavior
- Intentionally misgendering someone or refusing to use a person's preferred pronouns
- Sexual advances linked to reward or accompanied by threat of professional harm or other forms of retaliation
- Persistent and unwelcome solicitation of emotional or physical intimacy
- Sexual assault

Other Forms of Harassment and Discrimination

Harassment and discrimination on the basis of any protected characteristic are also strictly prohibited under this Code of Professional Conduct. Harassment includes inappropriate, discriminatory, or harassing comments or actions based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, marital status, and/or any other status or classification protected by federal, state or local law.

Examples may include, but are not limited to:

- Epithets, slurs, or negative stereotyping based on any protected status or classification
- Denigrating jokes and display or circulation of written or graphic material that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual or group based on a protected status or classification
- Behavior that demeans, humiliates, or threatens an individual on the basis of any protected status or classification

Retaliation

Retaliation, retribution, or reprisal against any individual who in good faith reports any potential or actual violation of this Code of Professional Conduct or who assists or participates in any investigation under this Code of Professional Conduct is strictly prohibited. Any such retaliation constitutes a serious violation of this Code of Professional Conduct and will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action. Any person who witnesses or is subjected to retaliation must immediately report that conduct as directed under this Code of Professional Conduct.

COMPLAINT PROCESS

Any participant covered by this Code of Professional Conduct who believes he or she has witnessed or been subjected to any violation of this Code of Professional Conduct should immediately report the conduct:

- via the web intake portal (<http://thesha.ethicspoint.com>);
- via the mobile intake portal (<http://theshamobile.ethicspoint.com>);
- via phone at (833) 254-2098.

The complaint intake process is handled anonymously and independently via the incident management service NAVEX. All complaints will be taken seriously.

Upon receipt of a complaint under the Code of Professional Conduct, the SHA Professional Conduct Committee or the Committee's designee will conduct a prompt, thorough investigation of the complaint as appropriate. Any member of the Professional Conduct Committee who believes they have a conflict of interest will not participate in the investigation process. Depending on the circumstances, the Professional Conduct Committee may engage an outside investigator or counsel to conduct an investigation on its behalf as the Committee deems appropriate. Following investigation, the Professional Conduct Committee will refer its findings to the Executive Committee or the Executive Council.

Every reasonable effort will be made to keep all matters related to the complaint and the investigation confidential, and investigations will be designed to protect the privacy of the parties concerned to the extent reasonably possible.

Disciplinary Action

Individuals who violate this Code of Professional Conduct will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action by the Executive Committee or the Executive Council, as will individuals who make complaints under this Code in bad faith. Appropriate disciplinary action may include, but is not limited to, a verbal or written warning, censure, ejection from the annual meeting without refund of any applicable registration fees or costs, being banned from participating in future SHA Events and Activities, or expulsion from the membership in the Association.

Appeals

In the event that an individual is dissatisfied with any action taken as a result of the investigation, that individual may submit an appeal to the SHA's Executive Council within thirty (30) days following the action. An appeal may be granted in the discretion of the Executive Council.

Questions

Any questions regarding this Code of Professional Conduct should be directed to the President of the SHA.

CALL FOR PAPERS FOR CHARLOTTE

Elizabeth Herbin-Triant

Nancy Bercaw

Tracing Southern Conservatism from Slavery to Donald Trump

Over the last few years, we have witnessed the flourishing of a deep conservatism in the South, from the embrace of former U.S. President Donald Trump's politics of resentment, to rampant voter suppression, to negative responses to COVID-19 restrictions and vaccine recommendations, to efforts to limit what can be taught in public schools about racism, to the undermining of abortion rights and gay rights. Indeed, from the start of the nation, southern states have been hotbeds of conservative thought and public policy, and these states have had the foundations in place to quickly institutionalize present-day conservative policies. We must ask ourselves: has southern conservatism become the model for American conservatism?

We will convene in the city that gave us Billy Graham and NASCAR—a city located on Catawba, Cheraw, Sugeree, Wateree, and Waxhaw land—to take stock of southern conservatism today and work to understand its historical roots. The SHA Program Committee invites proposals that will help us to understand the landscape of employment, the rural/urban divide, the state of cultural conservatism, the rise of conservative political movements, and development of political strategies deployed by conservatives in the region.

We also invite proposals that explore the varied alternative political visions developed by southerners in response to conservatism in their communities. These might include labor unionism; undocumented immigrant political organizing; Native Americans' uses of place, language, and memory to tell a different story; African American social justice movements; and artistic explorations of the South.

We invite proposals to engage some of the following questions:

- What has democracy looked like in the South, and how has this changed over time? Who has had a political voice and who has not?
- How might the history of slavery help us understand the evolution of southern conservatism?
- How have the economic and other challenges (including the opioid crisis and racial and class disparities in health and medical access) faced by southerners shaped regional politics?
- How have changes to patterns of land ownership impacted families and communities, and what have been the political effects of these changes?
- How have changes to southern cities—including employment patterns, housing, education, homelessness, violence, activism, and policing—shaped politics? What have been the patterns of suburbanization and suburban politics?
- How should we account for a rural backlash against urban “liberals”?

CALL FOR PAPERS FOR CHARLOTTE

- How has the militarization of the South affected regional politics?
- Nixon's law-and-order rhetoric has been referred to as the "Southern strategy"; to what extent is southern carcerality uniquely southern?
- How have pandemics including cholera, yellow fever, and COVID-19 affected different groups of southerners, particular neighborhoods, and various industries in the South? What has shaped the disparate impacts of these pandemics?
- What changes have taken place in industries such as meat packing, construction, and service? How have workers fared with minimal labor protections? What is the state of union activity in the South?
- What have been the relationships between conservatism and environmental transformation (including clearance of forest land to make room for plantation agriculture, the dredging of swamps to facilitate settlement, and environmental disasters such as oil spills)?
- How have white southerners understood diversity and the ways that it has changed the region? How have they understood whiteness and its benefits? How have some white southerners worked to stake permanent claim to the privileges of whiteness? What have they deployed to help them in this effort?
- How has tourism reinforced traditional beliefs and practices? How has it challenged them?
- How have conservatives deployed Confederate symbols such as flags and monuments, and how have others responded to these symbols?
- How have immigration and reverse migration to the region affected social activism?
- How have connections between the U.S. South and the world including immigration and trade relationships shaped the nature of southern conservatism?
- How have historically Black colleges and universities (HBCUs) promoted student activism, training for leadership in careers of service and activism, and built up a Black professional/middle class? To what extent have HBCUs encouraged a conservative politics of respectability?
- How has LGBTQ+ organizing taken place in the South? And what are the regional specificities with which organizers have to grapple?
- How does the emerging field of disability studies affect conventional wisdom about the southern past?
- How have sites of public history engaged southern conservatism and promoted social awareness and social action?
- How are southerners reckoning with the afterlives of systems of racial exploitation such as slavery and segregation?
- What alternative visions of the region have southerners imagined?

All proposals for the 2023 program must be submitted online before September 15, 2022. See thesha.org/submit-a-proposal.

Formats

Traditional panels are composed of three 15-minute papers, a chair, and two commentators, one of whom may be the chair. (One panel member, designated the organizer, will submit a 250-word panel overview, abstracts for each paper, and the participants' vitas.) Single paper submissions are accepted and, where possible, will be matched into panels by the Program Committee. However, complete panels have priority. (You may find H-South helpful in connecting with scholars to build panels.) Roundtables are organized discussions including three to four discussants and a moderator, who responds and asks questions of the participants, one of whom is designated the organizer. Discussants focus on a specific field or topic in informal 8-minute remarks, but do not read a formal paper. The moderator asks questions to which they respond, leaving ample time for questions from the audience. (The organizer submits a 250-word statement on the main question under discussion and each participant's vita.) The SHA is also open to Alternative Session Proposals.

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE MESSAGE

Kelly Kennington

Welcome to Baltimore

On behalf of the Membership Committee, I want to welcome you to Baltimore. Thanks to the leadership and support of our presidents Thavolia Glymph, Steven Hahn, and Glenda Gilmore, the Membership Committee has been expanded, empowered, and reconstituted. Over the past two years, even amidst the COVID lockdown, we have developed a number of new SHA programs we are delighted to announce:

New* SHA's 'Public Square'

The Membership Committee has created a new exhibit space we're calling the SHA Public Square, a hub for public announcements and Public History at the SHA, a place for historians in all lines of work—museums, teaching, archives, and more—to gather, learn, and connect. Located in the exhibit hall, the Square will host pop-up exhibits, a Happy Hour, and representatives from local history institutions, as well as feature Public History programs from colleges and universities across the nation. For more information, see <https://thesha.org/public-square>.

New* Mentoring Match-Up Program

The Southern Historical Association is launching a new program this year to help junior scholars meet up with potential mentors at the annual meeting in Baltimore. "Pleased to Meet Ya: A Mentoring Match-Up Program" helps people connect with others who share similar interests and are looking to meet new people in their sub-fields. Any questions about the program should be directed to Whitney Stewart (Whitney.Stewart@utdallas.edu) or Kelly Kennington (kennington@auburn.edu).

New* Second Book Writers' Workshop

The Southern Historical Association is excited to announce the Second Book Writers' Workshop. If you're working on a second book project and could use some motivation and support to "Get it done," please consider applying for our program, held over Zoom in the weeks prior to the annual meeting with this year's wrap-up conversation over lunch in Baltimore on Saturday, November 12. For more information, please check out <https://www.thesha.org/second-book>.

New* Junior Scholars Workshop

The Junior Scholars Workshop is a program to support and encourage advanced graduate students and recent graduates working in the field of southern history, as well as to provide a space for SHA members to connect outside of the annual meeting. As such, we encourage attendees to our Zoom sessions to chat with one another or say hello to friends. All attendees are also welcome to ask questions in the chat as well as on camera. To check the upcoming schedule, to volunteer, or for more information, please check out <https://www.thesha.org/workshop>.

New* First-Time Attendees Reception

I am especially proud to introduce a new tradition to the SHA, our First-Time Attendees Reception. We will inaugurate the new tradition on Thursday, November 10 from 4:00 PM to 6:00 PM in the Executive Lounge (18th Floor). Hosted by members of the SHA Membership Committee, and attended by members of the Executive Council, this opening-day reception will provide space for new conference-goers to connect with each other and learn how to make the most of their first Southern. If it's your first experience at the SHA, please come by, meet some new friends, grab an appetizer and a drink, and learn more about the Association.

ONE WOMAN, ONE VOTE

Rediscovering the Woman Suffrage Movement

New edition, revised, expanded, and bringing the story of women and the vote from 1920 through 2020!

Read, Assign, and Recommend for Library Purchase.

“In this second edition of One Woman, One Vote, we are reminded not only of the long struggle of women to acquire the right to vote and how that struggle was shaped by issues of race and class, but also how women asserted that right on issues that spanned the political spectrum. Now expanded to include new chapters on southern suffragists and white supremacy and the international context of the U.S. suffrage movement, and a sweeping overview incorporating new scholarship, editor Marjorie J. Spruill brings the story of women’s suffrage forward to include the historic election of Vice President Kamala Harris. Essential for classes in U.S. History and political science and for lay readers wanting to learn more about women and the vote.”

—Karen L. Cox, Author of Dixie’s Daughters: The United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Preservation of Confederate Culture. Professor of History, Director of Public History, University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Edited by Marjorie J. Spruill, a leading historian on women & politics from woman suffrage to the present.

Definitive writings by prominent historians on U.S. woman suffrage from Seneca Falls through the 2020 election.

Expanded edition includes new info on the diversity in the movement, regional issues, racism, and international influences.

Suffragists were the voting rights activists of their day. This revised and expanded edition tells the story of that hard-fought victory, warts and all. At a moment when questions of gender, race, and citizenship are center stage once again, the history of the woman suffrage movement remains timely and relevant—and a really good read.

—Susan Ware, Author of Why They Marched: Untold Stories of the Women Who Fought for the Right to Vote

The first edition of One Woman, One Vote became the center pole in our suffrage-movement-history tent. This revised and expanded edition of a classic book is just what we need to understand the connection between the movement that brought us voting rights for women in 1920 and our own turbulent time a century later. A very important book and so useful.

—Kathryn Kish Sklar, Author of Florence Kelley and the Nation’s Work: The Rise of Women’s Political Culture, 1830-1900

UGA Press Acquires NewSouth Books

We are excited to announce our latest acquisition!

Based in Montgomery, Alabama, NewSouth Books was an independent trade publisher widely recognized for its focus on Southern culture and history, particularly civil and human rights. NewSouth was launched in 2000 by Suzanne La Rosa and Randall Williams; La Rosa was the company's publisher, and Williams its editor-in-chief. On July 1, 2022, NewSouth was officially acquired by the UGA Press.

Since its founding, NewSouth's books have been recognized by critics and readers for their outstanding writing and strong cultural content. The publisher's diverse catalog of more than 400 titles reflects strengths in Southern history, politics, African American history and culture, biography/memoir, civil rights, education, essays, and folklore.

Notable titles include:

AMERICAN FOUNDERS: HOW PEOPLE OF AFRICAN DESCENT ESTABLISHED FREEDOM IN THE NEW WORLD
by Christina Proenza-Coles

THE SOUTHERNIZATION OF AMERICA: A STORY OF DEMOCRACY IN THE BALANCE
by Frye Gaillard and Cynthia Tucker

THE MANY LIVES OF ANDREW YOUNG
by Ernie Suggs

SAVING AMERICA'S AMAZON: THE THREAT TO OUR NATION'S MOST BIODIVERSE RIVER SYSTEM
by Ben Raines

FOURTEENTH COLONY: THE FORGOTTEN STORY OF THE GULF SOUTH DURING AMERICA'S REVOLUTIONARY ERA
by Mike Bunn

IN THE NAME OF EMMETT TILL: HOW THE CHILDREN OF THE MISSISSIPPI FREEDOM STRUGGLE SHOWED US TOMORROW
by Robert H. Mayer

THE TUSKEGEE AIRMEN, AN ILLUSTRATED HISTORY: 1939-1949
by Joseph Caver, Jerome Ennels, and Daniel Haulman

HUGO BLACK OF ALABAMA: HOW HIS ROOTS AND EARLY CAREER SHAPED THE GREAT CHAMPION OF THE CONSTITUTION
by Steve Suitts

Now an imprint of UGA Press, new titles will continue to be published in the NewSouth tradition of books. Look for exciting new releases every season!

Georgia Open History Library

The Georgia Open History Library (GOHL) includes open-access digital editions of single-authored scholarly titles and two multivolume series, comprising almost fifty individual volumes in history and primary documents. The open text library was generously funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities in anticipation of the 250th anniversary of the founding of the United States in 2026. Our title selection, not surprisingly, focuses on the colony and eventual statehood of Georgia and its relationship with other groups, colonies, countries, and the new Union. It includes studies of Adams and Jefferson; the American Revolution in Georgia; the Creek Nation; the papers of Revolutionary War general Lachlan McIntosh and the colony's visionary founder James Edward Oglethorpe; and records of the German-speaking Protestant Salzburger settlement.

The books included in the GOHL were chosen by an advisory board of esteemed Georgia historians for their broad historical and intellectual significance throughout the colonial and early statehood periods. The majority of the volumes are primary sources, documents, and records that have been the wellspring for most of the research on this period in Georgia history since their original publications.

Together the library constitutes the most fulsome portrait of early Georgia and its inhabitants—European, Indigenous, and diasporic African—available from primary sources. Of particular importance are the colonial records of the state of Georgia and what are widely regarded as the essential supplements to those records: the journals and/or letters of the Earl of Egmont, Peter Gordon, and Henry Newton, as well as the two publications of General James Edward Oglethorpe's own writings.

The titles are available and discoverable as open digital editions at the following sites:

- Affordable Learning Georgia: oer.galileo.usg.edu
- UGA Press's Manifold platform: ugapress.manifoldapp.org
- Digital Public Library of America Exchange and Open Bookshelf
- Yankee Book Peddler
- Project MUSE
- Books at JSTOR
- HathiTrust

They are also available to purchase individually as print paperback and Kindle editions.
